

DISASTROUS FIRE SWEEPS NORTH SIDE BLOCK

MIDNIGHT FLAMES GUT THREE BUILDINGS FOURTH IS DAMAGED

Andre & Andre and Shanken Stores Burned
—Schmalz Building Saved After Bitter Battle by Regular and Volunteer Firemen
—Total Loss is Estimated at $125,000

Fire discovered at 12:10 o'clock this morning completely wrecked three store buildings on the north side of the square. The group includes the Andre & Andre double store room and the Shanken store. The Schmalz grocery store building was damaged at the north end but the main part was saved by continuous fighting. By rough estimate the total property damage is fixed at $125,000.

The fire started in the Shanken store and the flames had made such headway before discovery that the two adjoining buildings were also in flames in twenty minutes' time. A stiff wind was blowing from the northwest and for a time it seemed impossible to save the Schmalz building to the east.

At first water was applied to the front of the building but it soon became apparent that the flames must be fought from the roof and the first effort was to reach the roof of the Lane building which joins the Shanken store on the west.

Then it was found that the greater danger was for the buildings to the east and that the store room occupied by Mathis, Kamm & Shibe offered an easier ascent.

As soon as the firemen, aided by volunteers, worked from the roof the fire checked and streams of water playing from the roof point of vantage confined the fire to the three buildings.

FALL ALSO GOT BIG LOAN FROM HARRY SINCLAIR

Zevely Says Oil Man Loaned Former Secretary $25,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. (AP)—Simultaneously with the disclosure today in the senate of an inquiry or another unpaid loan to former Interior Secretary Fall, the white house made known that President Coolidge is preparing to take every action to protect the public interest and to punish those guilty of any wrongdoing.

Before the same committee which E. L. Dohney, California oil magnate, told yesterday he had loaned Mr. Fall $100,000 on a personal note while he was secretary of the interior, J. W. Zevely, personal counsel to Harry F. Sinclair, testified today that Mr. Sinclair had loaned Mr. Fall $25,000 in liberty bonds on a personal note three months after he retired from the cabinet.

As the testimony now stands the Dohney loan was made more than a year before the Dohney interests obtained the lease of the Elk Hills, California, naval reserve, while the Sinclair loan was made more than a year after the Sinclair interests received the lease of the Teapot Dome, Wyoming, reserve.

Developments in the senate inquiry were discussed today by the cabinet.

President interested—Afterwards the president was represented officially as regarding some of the testimony to point to criminal action. The executive is reluctant to believe that anyone has been guilty of any criminal intent, but he feels the evidence already adduced requires explanation and investigation.

In the president's view two questions already are indicated, one, and the more important, is to bring to justice any one who has dealt with the situation in any way that is in violation of the criminal laws. The other is to see whether the government has suffered any injuries by reason of the oil reserve leases. If the leases do not seem proper, action looking to their annulment will be taken.

With respect to possible criminal phases of the matters it was made clear that there was no disposition to jump to conclusions; that investigations must be made by the proper authorities to see whether any criminal action will lie. It was pointed out that criminal action could not be started on rumors; that substantial evidence which can later be presented to ated, the fire was discovered at 12:10. Lester Means of Peoria was passing along the north side of the square when he happened to notice the flash of flames in the Shanken store. He took another look and then ran to the Douglas hotel and turned in the alarm.

Barred Rapidly—Chief of Police Kiloran was near at hand and hurried to the burning building. The fire evidently started in the second floor of the building and a part of the flooring had burned and fallen down into the main room before discovery. It will thus be seen how great progress the flames had made before there was any chance to combat them. Otto Toller, manager of Lloyd's Shoe Shop, and two assistants were busy in the store with invoice work and did not know that the adjoining store was on fire until Chief of Police Kiloran gave the alarm.

All the apparatus the department has available was used and Fire Chief Hunt and his men quickly had eight streams playing on the burning structure. To carry hose to the roof of a three story building on such a night was a difficult task and the firemen had the assistance of many volunteers, who did effective work.

The fact that it was soon the determination of Fire Chief Hunt to fight the flames from above no doubt resulted in checking of a fire which otherwise would have been likely to have swept the entire block.

The building occupied by the Shanken store was owned by Robert C. Smith. The west room of the Andre store is owned by Mrs. F. R. Taylor of Omaha, Neb., and the east room by George Schmalz. At 2:15 o'clock this morning there was every indication that the fire was entirely under control.

Big Stocks Destroyed—Much of the Andre and Andre big stock was destroyed by fire and without doubt all of the remainder is water-soaked. The Andre and Andre firm utilized the basement and three floors of the double building occupied and also the upper floors of the Schmalz building.

COMMITTEE CUTS PRESENT TAX ON MANY ARTICLES

Surtax Rate Seems to be Main Stumbling Block

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. (AP)—Tax reductions amounting to $193,000.00 annually and affecting more than 20 industries were agreed upon today by the house ways and means committee in its first major decisions on the revenue rates.

The rate changes, repealing some of the miscellaneous or nuisance taxes instituted during the war, were effected by non-partisan votes in a committee and included some suggestions of both the Mellon and Democratic plans.

Taxes on theater admissions of 50 cents or under and on beverages were repealed and the levies on jewelry and produce exchange sales were cut in half. Previous agreements to repeal the taxes on telegrams, telephone messages, leased wires and candy were continued.

The Democrats, however, continued their attitude of indifference to the proposal for a compromise agreement in committee on the income rates. Representative Garner, ranking Democrat on the ways and means committee, reiterated today that his party was united for the Democratic plan.

Republican leaders sought today to win the party on the question whether the majority members should write a separate bill or seek a compromise in committee with the Democrats. The question will be taken up by the steering committee tomorrow. Representative Longworth, Republican, the leader held his ground for a compromise agreement today despite the Democratic attitude, declaring the only hope of obtaining any immediate action on tax legislation on the floor lay in a non-partisan measure worked out in committee.

Mellen Replies—Secretary Mellon renewed his correspondence with Senator Coughens, Republican, Michigan, in defense of his reasons for reductions in the surtax rates to a maximum.

DYNAMITE USED FOR BREAKING UP GROUND FOR LENINE'S GRAVE

Many Subjects Express Wish That the Body Be Preserved

MOSCOW, Jan. 25. (AP)—Work was begun with the aid of dynamite to break the frozen ground on a temporary mausoleum in Red Square, in which the body of Nikolai Lenin will be placed after the funeral ceremonies Sunday.

The mausoleum will be deep-frozen, especially built to preserve a uniform temperature, will be lighted by electricity, and by means of a mirrored ceiling the casket will be visible at all times.

Again today there was continuous march of people thru the House of Unions to view the body of the soviet premier. Up to tonight the number of those who passed thru the chamber was placed at almost half a million. Peasants and workers continue to arrive from distant points to swell the long lines waiting to view the body.

Two diverging viewpoints have appeared concerning the ultimate disposition of the body of Lenin. Workers in several factories are petitioning the government asking that the body shall never be placed below ground and suggesting some arrangement whereby it would always be visible. Health Commissioner Semashko is advocating temporary preservation, having in view cremation later.

The living church has named a delegation of priests to attend the funeral. The Most Rev. Dr. Tikhon announced today that Lenin, unlike Tolstoy, never was expelled from the church, and that therefore it is permissible to hold services for him.

"I consider him a good real Christian soul," he said.

New Premier Will Not Countenance Secrecy

LONDON, Jan. 25. (AP)—The diplomatic corps. Most of Secret diplomacy will have no place in the dealings of Great Britain's new premier, Ramsay MacDonald, with foreign countries. Mr. MacDonald intends that the public shall be informed of foreign negotiations whenever the circumstances warrant. He also has decided that the discussion within the cabinet shall not be kept "dramatic" but that the newspapers will be given a complete picture after each session, summarizing the subjects discussed or decisions taken.

In conversation with the newspapermen today, Mr. MacDonald said he always would be glad to receive them when public interest demanded or time permitted.

Three Mummies Are Found By Explorer In King Tut's Tomb

Two Well Preserved Are Those of Goldsmith and Wife

LIXOR, Egypt, Jan. 25. (AP)—Three mummies, two well preserved, have been discovered by Dr. Robert Mond, the English Egyptologist, who has been clearing the space behind the Ramessum or Mortuary Temple of Ramesses II in the region known as Sheikh Abd-El-Qurna, to remove the rubble for his intended excavation of the tomb of Ramesses, vizir of the Heretic King of Akhenaton. The third mummy, possibly the body of a soldier killed in one of the wars of ancient Egypt, is in a bad state. The well preserved mummies are those of a goldsmith and his wife, a priestess of Amone of the twenty-fourth dynasty, 718 B. C., under the outer wrappings of the priestess mummy, her clothing of fine linen, now browned by age, was found laid, neatly folded, upon the body. There was a long robe piped with green with a V-shaped opening in front and holes for arms, fringed around the hem, then an outer garment with a hole for the head and several fringed cloths. At various places the garments had been darned.

As each garment was unfolded and held up to the bright sun shine the native diggers broke out into loud exclamations, declaring them identical in form and arrangement to those worn by the Pharaohs of old.

FEDERAL FORCES CAPTURE TUXPAM

TAMPICO, Jan. 25. (AP)—The rebel Guiberto Zaragoza reappeared after this port this morning anchoring one mile off the mouth of the Panuco river. It is said that the vessel's commander advised the military authorities here to be prepared for eventualities.

The paymaster of the Transcontinental Oil company, an American concern was attacked and wounded by bandits near here this afternoon. He was robbed of 4,000 pesos. Federal troops sent to capture the band were unsuccessful.

No long after the Zaragoza's reappeared two American destroyers arrived to join the cruiser Richmond.

Tuxpam was taken yesterday by the federals, according to reports received here.

TIERNAN'S WIFE AGAIN BOBS UP

WATERLOO, Iowa, Jan. 25. Armed with a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Blanche Tiernan of Damsel, Iowa, who figured in the sensational maternity case of Professor Tiernan of South Bend, Ind., more than a year ago, Sheriff R. H. Winton, passed thru Waterloo early this afternoon bound for Marble Rock, Iowa, where Mrs. Tiernan is said to be employed as a domestic. The Waterloo county sheriff seeks Mrs. Tiernan upon a charge of having passed a bogus check, while employed as a domestic at Belle Plaine, Iowa.

BRYAN SUGGESTS CANCELLING ALL WAR LOANS MADE

On Condition all Nations Join in World Peace Plans

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 25.—Purchase of a priceless peace with a worthless debt and fuller participation by America in the affairs of the world, was urged by William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state, in a political address here today before a large audience.

Mr. Bryan advocated cancellation of war loans made by the United States to her allies on condition that the debtor nations disarm and join in a movement for world peace. He declared the French loan would never be repaid and insisted that the United States should assume the attitude of a "preferred creditor" demanding disarmament as a condition to cancellation of the debt.

Declaring that the Republican party favored the rich and protected their interests, Mr. Bryan said "they take public oil lands and turn them over to an individual who boasts that he is going to make $100,000,000 out of it."

Advocating a soldiers' bonus, Mr. Bryan declared reinstatement of the excess profits tax would provide sufficient funds to pay a bonus without interference with a general reduction of taxes.

Mr. Bryan declared the 1924 national campaign promised to be the most active and bitter campaign in many years. He declared the Republican party leadership is "aristocratic and reactionary" and added that the Republicans "have a hard time coming."

Mr. Bryan declared that President Coolidge "is not in touch with the public needs."

STATES IN WEST ARE DETERMINED TO KEEP EDUCATIONAL CONTROL

Statement Made by President of Illinois University

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Jan. 25.—That western states are determined to maintain control of higher education as well as of elementary schooling was the opinion expressed tonight by President David Kinney of the University of Illinois at the Goodwill Banquet at the hotel.

The banquet, concluded the annual farmers' week at the university.

If one thing is more definitely settled than another in the educational policy of this country it is that the states of the west are determined to maintain control of higher education as well as of elementary schooling, the president said.

While admitting the magnificent work of the private colleges and universities, the people of the west place their reliance on their own state universities to blaze the path of economic, social and political progress and to give an education that will raise the standard of life and establish the ideals of the people at large.

The state university is the representative of the intellectual and spiritual aspirations of its people.

MYSTERIOUS BLAST AT JOHNSON CITY TRAPS MEN BELOW

Six More Are Seriously Injured and Eight Suffer Severe Burns—Four Physicians Are First to Go to Rescue of Entombed Miners
—Many Rescued Have Clothes Burned Off

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill., Jan. 25.—Thirty seven men are dead, six seriously injured and badly burned, while eight others suffered burns about the head and body in the mine disaster occurring here tonight.

After hours of faithful work on the part of volunteer rescue teams to aid the organized teams of Williamson county, the last of the injured in the explosion at the East Side mine of the Crear Clinch coal company were here this afternoon had been brought to the surface and are being given medical aid in hospitals here and in Peoria.

Hundreds of men volunteered to go down into the mine when four Johnson City physicians stepped forward and announced their intention of braving the poisonous fumes of the inner recesses of the mine where the men were trapped since three o'clock this afternoon.

Fifteen who were trapped with the dead and injured in the mine, were carried out by rescuers with barely a stitch of clothing upon their bodies and all the hair burned from their bodies, but excepting for their terrible experience not otherwise hurt. When the explosion occurred there were 375 men in the mine.

The men near the entrances escaped easily but entries numbered 9, 10, 11 and 12, locked in the depths of the colliery where the actual explosion took place, were farthest from a means of escape and the men there suffered the full terror of the terrific blast.

Waiting in the cold outside the mine shaft relatives and workers were completely enveloped by the dense black smoke which turned their faces black as night. Ambulances from Peoria and Johnson City were lined up as each figure borne on a stretcher was brought up out of the smoky shaft by means of an elevator. The waiting crowds pushed forward fearful that some relative might be borne out to them.

Among the dead were Herbert McCullough, mine manager and Jesse Ford, mine boss.

The silence of the night was broken by the wild shrieks of wives and mothers of the dead men. Organizations rushed hundreds of sandwiches and gallons of hot coffee to the mine and distributed it freely among the women and children workers who have stood vigil since the explosion.

LOW TEMPERATURE IS FORECAST FOR NEXT FEW DAYS IN STATE

Below Zero Weather Predicted in Middle West Today

CHICAGO, Jan. 25. The most recent of the cold waves that have been chasing each other across the continent in the middle west today while the mercury dropped, was the wings of a north-west gale. Chicago's fourth sub-zero period was ushered in with a sharp drop in temperature. At 6 o'clock the thermometer registered a few degrees above zero as compared with 28 above at the same time last night and weather forecasts told of temperatures below zero for many sections of the middle west by morning.

The severe cold will continue tomorrow according to the weather bureau, but the wind is expected to diminish. Sub-normal temperatures are in prospect for several days in the Chicago forecast district it was announced.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25. (AP)—William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, today continued his narration of the $25,000 he obtained from a comparative stranger in 1912 and 1913, and added to his recital the name of another comparative stranger to whom he entrusted the expenditure of the gift. Every attestation of the remarkable story was given in detail by Mr. Anderson, who was on the witness stand for the second day in defense of the forgery charge being heard against him in supreme court.

Most of the story was drawn by the cross-examination of Assistant District Attorney Pecora, the prosecutor who talked himself into hotness and a half hour arraignment of the witness.

A person named by Mr. Anderson as Henry Mann, as mysterious as the strange, "John T. King," who, according to Mr. Anderson's testimony yesterday

The white house announced that President Coolidge regarded the Teapot Dome evidence as pointing toward criminal action.

Albert B. Fall, convicted in the Teapot Dome case, was on the witness stand Monday before the Teapot Dome committee.

J. W. Zevely, attorney for Harry F. Sinclair, testified before the Teapot Dome committee that Sinclair loaned Albert B. Fall $25,000 in Liberty Bonds after Fall had left the cabinet.

The house ways and means committee agreed upon reductions in several miscellaneous taxes.

Secretary Woods received the latest Muscle Shoals offer of Southern Power interests, while the house military committee was holding hearings on the question.

The Lehigh Valley railroad company before the mixed cables commission asserted it had obtained evidence that the Black Tom explosion was brought about on behalf of the German government.

Arrangements were completed for the immediate calling in Washington by the president of a conference of representatives of interests affected by the acute economic condition in the northwest to discuss relief action.

than endeavoring to while the time away with social pleasures.

Thus far the worst feature of the De Henry loan of $100,000 to Senator Stephen Fall is that the testimony of Mr. Fall is thus far contradictory. The record from his testimony before the committee includes the direct statement that he had never borrowed or received money from Mr. DeHenry.

The federal government is going to war on mail-order bootleggers. A nation-wide plot, which is said to center in the east, is said to be the appetites of drinkers who receive their illicit goods by mail.

Besides violating postoffice regulations, the scheme is particularly nefarious because it enables bootleggers to flood the country with liquor of all descriptions—good, poor and poisonous. This double flouting of the law should be attacked without stint of effort, and the guilty be given the maximum of punishment.

SOVIET "FAITH"

The Soviet regime is undergoing the supreme test of its existence. Without the strong hand of Nicolai Lenin, it is difficult to predict the outcome of the growing dissension among party leaders within the Bolshevik ranks.

It is not unlikely that there will be a mad scramble for the mantle of dictatorship. Lenin's death places several leaders in the position of growing strength, and it is unlikely that any now on the horizon could wield together the conflicting elements as adeptly as did the former Red dictator. Jealousy would become predominant, no matter who ascended to the office. And jealousy, smouldering long enough, will break out into ultimate revolution, judged by previous historical experiences.

The fact that delegates at the all-Russian Congress pledged themselves to Lenin's death to "keep the faith" is worth little. "Faith" is a flexible word, and particularly so with followers of the red flag of license. The "faith" that sanctions fire and sword and tramples underfoot the solemn words of nations can not be expected to hesitate before such a petty thing as political backstabbing.

compare with the ancient Greeks who performed in the original Olympic games centuries ago. In brute strength and endurance, the human race probably has deteriorated even in the matter of its picked "best specimens."

It is 2700 years since the first Olympic meet, in 776 B. C. The Greeks reckoned their calendar from that date, in Olympiads or periods of four years. Olympic games were staged every four years for more than 11 centuries.

At first the only Olympic event was a match between runners in the stadium. Other events were added later—such as wrestling, boxing, jumping, four-horse chariot races, bareback horse races and javelin hurling.

At the height of their power, the Olympic games lasted five days. They were finally abolished, in the year 394, by Emperor Theodosius. In modified form the Olympic games were revived at Athens in 1896, to be held every four years.

To the lover of clean sport, the strongest appeal of the ancient Olympic games was that there was no money prizes. Victors received only the glory of winning and a wreath from the sacred olive tree near Olympia.

That was genuine sport. You realize it in our generation when you watch prizefighters refusing to enter the ring except for enormous financial guarantees.

Originally the Olympic games were local. Later they brought together in temporary reunion the scattered fragments of the old Greek empire. Similarly, the Olympic games, now international, should do a lot this year to bring the world's nations closer together.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS

No. 23

While the word "depreciation" is not in the revenue act, it provides that in computing net income there shall be allowed as deductions "a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence."

In claiming depreciation, the following fundamental principles must be observed: Only such depreciation as results from the exhaustion, wear, and tear of property resulting from its use in business, trade, profession, or vocation is allowed. Depreciation in the value of the taxpayer's home or property, such as an automobile used for pleasure or convenience, can not be claimed. Reduction of value due to changes in the social or business condition of a neighborhood, or change in street grade, or fluctuations of market value can not be claimed.

Depreciation may be claimed on all business property, which includes not only buildings, but machinery of a permanent character, automobiles, farm tractors, mine and mill equipment, office furniture, and books.

The value to be used for depreciation is the cost of the property. However, in the case of property acquired prior to March 1, 1913, the deduction shall be computed upon the basis of its fair market price or value as of that date.

Deductions for depreciation must be made as a separate item of the taxpayer's return and must be explained by showing separately each class of property, its cost at the date of purchase (fair market price or value as of March 1, 1913, if purchased prior to that date), estimated life (for the taxable year), and total depreciation charged off for all previous years.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

A Matter of Etiquette

BY BERTON BRALEY

WHEN first they met each other he was four and she was three.

And they hadn't read the Book of Etiquette.

He was very, very friendly, but no friendlier than she.

And they hadn't read the Book of Etiquette.

So without an introduction they made friends, as children will.

And they went to school together through their childhood days, until

They both started off to college—they were quite grown up, still.

They hadn't read the Book of Etiquette.

HE took her out to dances and he took her out to plays.

And they hadn't read the Book of Etiquette.

They were married to each other in their graduation days.

And they hadn't read the Book of Etiquette.

She was quite a dainty housewife and a mighty clever cook.

And they had six lovely children in their snug suburban nook.

Then one day she got a copy of a justly famous book.

'Twas a copy of the Book of Etiquette.

NOW the wife is out in Reno, she has left her little nook.

For at last she's read the Book of Etiquette.

She'd been living with a husband who was never introduced.

Which was frowned on by the Book of Etiquette.

When the tie that binds is severed, she'll undoubtedly essay

To re-meet her former husband in a meek and proper way.

And they'll proceed to courtship and a second wedding day.

All according to the Book of Etiquette.

THE REFEREE

By Albert Apple

Weather

Beginning about the time of the birth of Christ, the world had very wet weather for several centuries. Then came a dry spell that lasted 600 to 700 years. Weather fluctuates in long cycles. At present it looks as if at least the middle latitudes of our Northern Hemisphere are slowly passing out of a dry period that has prevailed for the past 200 years or more. So says the authority, Dr. Willis Luther Moore, in "The New Air World."

Much of our weather originates, somewhere in the Far North. So weather observations up there will be the most valuable feature of the coming airplane and dirigible flights over the north pole.

Grooming

At an Ohio college recently, it was reported that sophomores had decided not to shave during examination week, and women students not to use cosmetics. The idea being, that they could concentrate better if they didn't devote any mental effort to beauty.

Now, that might be all right theoretically with a Hindu hermit delving into mysticism. We can't vouch for women and the personal effect they get from beautifying.

But we believe that a shave and a haircut, in addition to stimulating self-respect, also stimulate the processes of the brain. That's where our last dollar would go, if "broke."

Nobility

A million dollar jazz palace, where unemployed counts and barons will be employed as dancing partners and hosts, will be built in New York before J. P. Faggen invents this wonderful idea.

Some humorists consider it funny. Rather, it's pathetic. Not that we are sorry for nobility forced to hunt a job. We'd like to force honest work on some of the paratitic noblemen who stay in Europe, bankrupt, and plot politically or set their traps for American heiresses.

The former nobleman who is willing to work as a dancing partner or waiter, to make an honest living, has our respect to the hilt.

Gasoline

Nearly a billion gallons of gasoline in storage, here in the United States. An enormous figure. But Americans are used to much "gas" every 60 days. Production still exceeds consumption by about 100 million gallons a month. That should act as a brake on prices for some time.

Births

The best news from France in many a moon is word that births have been exceeding deaths at the rate of over 100,000 a year. Not a big increase in population, as we reckon things in America. But it's the chief fear is a growing population in Germany and a shrinkage in France. The cradle situation over there is the real key to politics between the two countries.

CITY'S INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK BRIGHTENS

T. A. Chapin and H. C. Welch Learn Things on Trip That May Help City Get Factories—Low Freight and Power Rates Better Than Bonus.

Lower power rates, and low freight rates on its four railroads are the principal factors which have enabled Michigan City, Ind., to attract twenty-seven small industries in the past four years, according to findings of T. A. Chapin, chairman of the industrial committee and Secretary H. C. Welch of the Chamber of Commerce, who have returned from a visit to that city. Five years ago the town lost most of its population thru the departure of the Michigan Central shops. The business men in desperation organized a chamber of commerce and set to work to build the town up industrially, to the exclusion of every other aim.

The city has paid no bonuses to factories, but by offering cheap factory sites outside the city limits and by securing for the manufacturers cheap power and freight rates, it secured a large number of small plants, most of them employing about a hundred men each. There are a few large plants which employ about 400 laborers each. The city has four factory districts, each in a different section. By locating the plants outside the city, freedom from taxation was secured to a large extent. The city is built on sand dunes, and the land is thus cheaper than could be expected here.

Messrs. Chapin and Welch also visited headquarters of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association and the officials of the Chamber of Commerce in touch with factory possibilities. It is believed that smaller factories which would employ men, would be most desirable for the city at this time. Members of the industrial committee hope soon to visit Wisconsin cities in an effort to find factories which wish to come into this section to locate.

The local men investigated the boiler factory which was mentioned as a Chicago factory which is seeking another location. Although there are a number of matters to be further investigated, this proposition looks good, and it may be that the plant can be secured for this city.

Now that the Chamber of Commerce has entered into the large number of activities that have boosted the city into a place of prominence, it appears that an exclusive policy of industrial development for at least a year or two might bring a harvest of factories and population. However, there are some difficulties to be overcome, before much can be done to induce factories to locate here.

LOCAL MEN BUY TELEPHONE PROPERTIES

In the current issue of the Bluffs Times the fact was noted of the announcement by George W. Van Gundy of the sale of his business in the Bluffs and Merced exchanges of the Home Telephone Company to C. E. Domke and C. Tucker of this city. The Bluffs paper carries the following statement which it states was made by Mr. Van Gundy:

"After having served as president and treasurer of the Bluffs and Merced exchanges for a number of years, C. E. Van Gundy has decided to retire from the telephone business and has therefore sold his interest in same to Messrs. Domke and Tucker of Jacksonville. They assume control the first of the year. As they have been with the Illinois Telephone Company for a number of years, they are experienced men in the telephone business. Mr. Van Gundy wishes to thank the public for their patronage and cooperation during the time he has been in control and wishes a continuance of same with the new company."

Several years ago Mr. Van Gundy acquired the controlling interest in the Home Telephone Company when he purchased the interest of several other parties in the firm and later the company was incorporated under the title of the Home Telephone Company.

Beleville Policeman Tells of Recovery

Wm. J. Bader

"If I ever need medicine again I'll go straight for Tanlac as a martin goes for his gourd," is the characteristic statement of William J. Bader, well-known police patrolman, of 320 Paul Ave., Belleville, Ill.

"Two years ago the flu left me feeling 'draggy' and no-account and my legs were so weak I could hardly walk my beat. My kidneys were also bothering me and my back and legs hurt me so bad at night I would just roll and toss about in pain.

"Tanalac gave me a big appetite and put me to enjoying my food. Then the pains all went away and I got to sleeping like a top, walking my beat OK and feeling fine. Tanlac was wonderful for me and I'll testify for it any time."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

accounting of any kind to the league superintendent. The name "Mann" was brought into the record under conditions similar to those under which that of "King" was made public. Pecora asked Anderson the name of the publicity man "King" had introduced to him. "I protest that to name him would be a violation of confidence," Anderson said, turning to Judge Tompkins.

"You must answer," the court directed.

"He said his name was Mann, Henry Mann."

"Mann" of Mystery
He did not know his residence or office address he explained nor had he ever seen Mann, except in the league offices or by appointment at the Pennsylvania Terminal. On all occasions, he said, he gave "Mann" money. "Mann" he added was employed in the publicity work of the league for 22 months, doing his last work in 1915, when he received the final payment of the $24,700. In all he declared, he had met "Mann" twenty to 25 times. He had met him but once, since the work had been completed, he said, although he had sought him since the district attorney began the investigations which culminated in his indictment. Asked why he had not told the league's directors at the time he put in a claim for reimbursement of the $24,700 in 1918, of "Mann's" connection with the publicity, he replied that he did not because he believed that if the identity of the pub-

The figures were not available last night as to the exact value of the stock carried, but the total is in excess of $50,000. H. M. Andre said last night that he was uncertain as to the exact amount of insurance but that the loss would be fairly well protected.

The Schmalz buildings, according to George Schmalz, the owner, are also fairly well protected by insurance. There will be some loss on the Schmalz grocery and bakery from water and also some damage from heat, although the building was saved.

R. C. Smith, owner of the Shanks store building, could not be reached last night but it is known that he ordinarily carries an ample amount of insurance.

NOVA SCOTIA MINERS APPEAR IN DEFENSE OF DEPOSED OFFICER

Former Secretary-Treasurer and Vice President
Will Speak

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 25. (AP)—Miners of Nova Scotia were heard in defense of their deposed secretary-treasurer, James McLaughlin, in the United Mine Workers' convention today and will continue their attempt to indicate him when they depose vice-president Alex. S. McIntire.

Asked why he had not told the league's directors at the time he put in a claim for reimbursement of the $24,700 in 1918, of "Mann's" connection with the publicity, he replied that he did not because he believed that if the identity of the pub-licy man were to become known, his life would be in danger. "Anything might have happened to him," he explained. He had given detailed list of the expenditures of "Mann" to the directors, he added. The loose sheets of paper on which he had noted these payments from time to time, he explained, he had destroyed.

Mr. Pecora, producing a letter from Mr. Anderson to the directors in which he declared the money he had advanced the league had been raised by him through a mortgage of his home and the hypothecation of three life insurance policies, asked the witness why he had not told the true source of the money and Anderson replied that he had been mixed in his dates, he declared, that a result of his loans to the league he had had to obtain the mortgage for his personal expenses and that the procedure had caused confusion in his mind.

Strategy of the insurgent element failed them. It was planned in one of their caucuses to force consideration of the Alexander Howatt case today, and immediately afterward demand rehearing of the Nova Scotia cases.

Foretelling this plan, Vice-President Philip Murray announced there was a misunderstanding concerning the Nova Scotia ruling of yesterday and that it would be reconsidered. A motion was made that Alex. McIntire, deposed vice-president, be given privilege to speak, and accordingly Mr. Murray called him to the platform.

Instead of making his speech, McIntire said, he had not his proofs with him to clear McLaughlin, but would have them tomorrow morning.

Mr. Murray advised the assembly that McIntire's papers were somewhere in town, and that he should go get them, while other Nova Scotia miners and administration supporters continued the debate.

McIntire left early in the afternoon and did not reappear until 10 minutes before adjournment. Meanwhile, James Smith of Sydney Mines, Nova Scotia, told that McLaughlin is in the penitentiary for the good work he had done.

Another Nova Scotia delegate repeated the charges and expressed the threat that "perhaps Canada will break away from the union because of this treatment of McLaughlin."

"Maybe he did break the laws of the union, but he didn't break the laws of humanity," he said.

John Taylor was fire captain on duty when the alarm reached the department. All men available and the apparatus were very speedily at the fire scene and as indicated the services of volunteers were available.

It was thru good co-operation that the fire was confined to the three buildings.

It is seldom that such a small crowd of spectators has witnessed a big fire. The fire whistle was found to be out of order and the flames had made big headway before many citizens were awakened.

For a time it seemed that the services of all possible volunteers must be secured and at a request from the fire department the whistles at the School for the Deaf, the Jacksonville State hospital and the court house bell sounded alarms. But even with this resulting midnight din only a few hundred people assembled near the fire.

The School for the Deaf alarm brought a number of people from the neighborhood to the building with offers to aid in protecting the pupils.

Building and Contents Destroyed
When Fire Starts Early This Morning—Property Destroyed Valued at $9,000.

While the three store buildings on the north side of the square were in flames last night, fire started in the residence of L. L. Kinnett at 1358 South Main St., and the building and all the contents were totally destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinnett had been away from home until about 11 o'clock last night. They retired shortly after reaching home and were awakened about 1:15 o'clock by smoke in their room. They were able to save only a small quantity of clothing and a few pieces of furniture, and everything else in the house was burned.

An alarm was turned in immediately following the discovery of the blaze and owing to the fact that practically all of the fire equipment was being at the fire on the square, volunteer firemen took a cart containing hose to the scene of the blaze on South Main. However, the house and practically all of its contents were a mass of flames when the firemen arrived, but they were able to keep the blaze from adjacent buildings.

It is the belief of Mr. Kinnett that the flames started from the furnace, although nothing seemed to be wrong when the family retired.

The house was one of two stories and eight rooms and had been purchased by Mr. Kinnett but recently. He placed a valuation of $6,000 upon the house, and valued the furniture at between $300 and $350. Some insurance was carried but not enough to cover the loss.

of 25 percent. The secretary again asked Mr. Couzens if the present surtaxes had not impelled him to invest largely in tax-exempt securities.

In its revision of the indirect tax rate schedules the committee left a balance of about $17,000,000 which may yet be cut off in these levies.

Motions before the committee to repeal the taxes on automobile trucks and spare parts and reduce taxes on automobile passenger cars were defeated.

Chairman Green of the committee pointed out, however, that with a margin still remaining for possible further cuts in the miscellaneous tax rates, the committee might yet alter the tax on motor trucks and passenger cars as well as raise the exemption on theater admissions to 75 cents.

The tax repeals and reductions voted today would become effective immediately on enactment of the measure.

Other taxes repealed included those on hunting, bowie and dirk knives, ivory and ivory boots, hunting garments, yachts and motor boats, carpets and rugs, trunks and valises, purses and pocket books, portable lighting fixtures, fans, and theater seating. Taxes on produce (exchange sales and on bowling and billiards was cut in half.

The committee agreed to cut by one half the tax on all jewelry made chiefly of precious stones or metals and watches whose wholesale price exceeds $50.

WHITE HALL DROPS GAME BY ONE POINT Jacksonville Returned Winner by Score of 14 to 13—Hillview Bows to Seconds 19 to 11—Meet Brighton Tonight

White Hall, Jan. 25. (Special to the Journal)—In a lightning fast game featured through by close guarding on both sides, White Hall High was defeated by Jacksonville by the close score of 14 to 13.

White Hall led at the end of the first quarter by 2 to 0, and still had the edge by 7 to 3 at the half, the visitors making only one field goal and one free throw throughout the half. When the third quarter ended White Hall still had the lead 13 to 8, but in the final session the locals were shut out without a point while the visitors made three baskets, winning the game.

In the curtain raiser which was another top-notch game the White Hall Seconds defeated the Hillview Firsts by 19 to 11. Brighton comes tonight for a game and the contest is bound to be close as they recently played Chesterfield and defeated them by a slightly larger score than was run up by White Hall in their recent game against that school. Brighton has had a first class team for the past two years and reports would indicate that they are equally strong this season. White Hall showed far better form tonight than in the two previous games and are due to come out of their recent slump. The score of the main tilt follows:

Cagey Cagers Fool 'Em All in Western Tilts

What Notre Dame is to football, Creighton University of Omaha is to basketball if the claims of western critics are to be believed.

Two Big Ten quintets, one of them titleholders in the season of 1922-23, have already bowed in defeat before the Omaha quintet and predictions are numerous and confident that the Blue and White cagers will skim thru the remainder of the schedule, including Nebraska, Notre Dame, South Dakota Aggies, Marquette and other strong teams, without a defeat.

The Blue's decisive defeat of Iowa, Big Ten champs, at Omaha recently, score 36 to 13, stamped the Creightontones as one of the most formidable teams in the country. Indiana has also taken the count at the hands of the Creighton crew.

Bill Bryan—I don't think they ought to monkey with it; there's too much monkey business in the world now.

Bull Montana—I've got to say it is that if it comes over the plate in the groove, seek it.

Tex Rickard—I never heard of this stymie guy, but if he's game and can hit I'll match him with Firpo.

Joe Beckett—The stymie's all right with me. I'll fall for anything.

Henry Ford—How far can you make the blamed thing go on a gallon of gas, that's what I want to know?

Peggy Joyce—Not for a sweet young thing like me. I've seen entirely too much of these foreigners.

Sam Gompers—What the stymie needs is an eight hour working day, improved factory conditions and an increased salary scale.

Magnus Johnson—Shut! It oughtn't to be hard to raise 'em, if you keep the army worm and the boll weevil out.

General Obregon—If Coolidge will rush me 3,000,000 handpicked, house-broken stymies I'll end this here revolt in three days.

BASKETBALL WILL BE KING THIS EVENING

All School Teams Have Games Scheduled—J. H. S. Will Put on Double Header

Today is one of the days when all local basketball fans will be able to boost for their favorite prep teams, as all will be in action, in addition to the game scheduled by Illinois college.

Coach John Cooney will take his plucky Little Irish lads to Barry to try conclusions with Barry High tonight and from the dope should be returned winners. The East Enders have been showing great stuff on the floor this season and are now further bolstered by the addition of Gebert to the squad who would be a valuable addition to any squad in Jacksonville.

Illinois college goes to Alton to tangle with Shurtliff this evening, and with the Carthage game tucked safely under their belts, they are feeling very cocky and full of assurance for the contest this evening. The Harmon is getting a first class squad whipped into shape and his men show more improvement and better teamwork with every game. Most of his team may now be considered as certain quantities, and his substitutes are strong enough to uphold their own in case a change becomes advisable. They should win.

On David Prince floor the local fans will be able to witness a double header this evening, when one of the high teams tackle Waverly, and the other team will meet Coach Robey Burns' I. S. D. Tigers. Rumor has it that Coach Mitchell has two teams so evenly balanced in ability that he is sometimes put to it to make his selections for any given game, so this evening there will be a chance to witness both teams in action. The Red and White quintet have been playing in rather hard luck this season, losing most of their games by a very close margin, but their win at White Hall last week indicates that they are fast rounding into real form.

Coach Burns is not very optimistic regarding the season this evening, as he will be forced to take the floor without the services of his ace, Ambrose Taylor, the lanky center who dropped in five long-distance baskets in their game with Auburn. Ambrose was reported sick in bed yesterday and it is extremely doubtful if he will be able to take the floor. The Tigers have played but one game this season and lost that one by a very close margin, nevertheless, considering the floor handicap at the deal school their showing should be commended. One of the things worst needed at the school for the deal is new gymnasium arrangements. The present building has been in use for more years than one would like to count and is naturally more or less antiquated. Improvement or enlargement would help wonderfully. Burns is doing his very best under the circumstances and at present has several junior teams working out each evening with the expectation that eventually the Tigers will be given consideration in any class. Burns will probably start the game this evening with the following men: Ross, f.; Schroeder, f.; Clark, c.; Krausman, c.; Miller, g.; Crabbe, g. His substitutes will be: Dillard

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Speculators for the advance maintained control of today's stock market despite the attempt of bear operations to unsettle the list by heavy offerings of a number of the motor and chemical shares, and such specialties as Famous Players and United States east iron pipe.

Prices were churned about considerably in the early dealings
but a broad forward movement set in near the close, under the leadership of United States Steel common, which touched $104, the highest price since last spring and nearly three points above yesterday's close.

High priced specialties again developed marked buoyancy. General Electric touched 22 1/2, the highest price in more than 20 years, closing slightly before that
points.

Corn Products established a record high for all time at 18 1/2, up 1/2 against this year's low of 18 1/2. American Car and Foundry advanced almost eight points to 17 1/2.

United Fruit jumped more than six points to 195. American Can established a record high at 11 1/2, closing at the net gain of nearly two points. Operators on the long side of the market found little difficulty in obtaining funds to finance their operations. Call money again ruled at four per cent but outside loans were reported to have been made as low as 3 1/2.

Commission houses reported an increase in public participation but thus far the buying from this source has been of a rather cautious character.

Buying of the steel shares was influenced by reports of increasing operations of the principal companies and the favorable interpretation by market observers of the preliminary annual report of the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

Railroad shares lagged behind the general list until just before the close when heavy buying set in for a scattered assortment of issues.

Call money held steady at four per cent. Brokers continue to bid four and four and a half per cent for all maturities in the time money market with some 30
90 day loans made at that figure.
Bankers are asking 4 1/2 for the longer dates. The commercial paper or market was quiet with rates unchanged.

WOMEN VOTERS HEARD CHICAGO WOMAN SPEAK

Mrs. George R. Dunn, President Illinois Republican Women's Organization, Addressed Morgan County League of Women Voters.

The Morgan County League of Women Voters held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the Peacock Inn, when Mrs. George R. Dunn, President of the Illinois Republican Women's Organization, was the speaker of the afternoon.

Mrs. Dunn emphasized especially the necessity of organization by the women of the country, with whom the result of the 1924 election rests largely, according to the opinion of political leaders of the country.

"The essential balance of power lies in the hands of the women," Mrs. Dunn asserted, "and only organization can effect the results for which natural instinct of woman to put her interest in the care of children, the unfortunate, the aged and infirm, and after all, the only effective weapon she has to use in the protection of these interests is the ballot."

"The casting of the ballot is the important factor, and the organization is the only effective method of getting out the vote."

Miss Amy Onken, Mrs. W. W. Anderson, and Mrs. B. L. Tucker of Chapin were present at the meeting.

Mrs. A. L. Adams of this city, who is vice-president of the Illinois Republican Women's League, will leave Jacksonville for Chicago, where she will attend a convention of the League.

I. C. FRATERNITY MEMBERS BANQUET

Members of Tau Epsilon Nu held Banquet and Business Meeting at College Wednesday Evening.

On the evening of Jan. 23, the old and time honored fraternity of Tau Epsilon Nu dined sumptuously and discussed the business of the day and plans for the ensuing year. Tau Epsilon Nu is an old fraternity which embraces in the folds of its brotherhood the most prominent alumni of Illinois Colleges. In accord with the traditions of the fraternity and with the welfare of Illinois at heart, the members of the fraternity are an everpresent force for good at the college.

Departing from the custom of the past which at Illinois has kept the chapter silent, the present members believing that the students of the present will be in accord with the true purpose of the organization, took this opportunity to break their long silence. Among the purposes of the fraternity are three ideals which are dear to the hearts of every sincere student of Old Illinois. They are: (1) to protect in all ways and phases the sacred honor and good name of Illinois College; (2) to afford a means by which a man, whose conduct on the campus is not that of a gentleman, can be brought to the attention of his misconduct; (3) to endeavor to make every man in the fraternity a better and nobler man, a more loyal and efficient student, and a mold of good policies.

At the banquet letters from alumni, wishing the fraternity well and suggesting future policies, were read. On the same night, the anniversary of the formation of the fraternity, the other chapters of Tau Epsilon Nu also meeting, sent mutual letters of friendship to each other.

In the course of the business session greetings were sent to the infant fraternity on the "hill" known as Alpha Phi Alpha.

LOCAL COLLEGE MEN ATTEND MEETING

Dr. Charles Rammelkamp and Harry M. Capps were among the presidents and representatives of the boards of trustees of the various Presbyterian Colleges of the state to attend a conference at Springfield Thursday relative to a three million dollar campaign for the endowment of the Presbyterian Colleges of the state.

Dr. Hudson of Blackburn University, presided over the meeting and various questions concerning the campaign were discussed. A united campaign is now in progress in the state of Iowa for $2,000,000 to be used for similar purposes among the colleges of that state. It is expected that the same financial organization that is in charge of the campaign in Iowa will come to Illinois to assume charge of the enterprise at Illinois, when the Iowa campaign is completed.

ALUMNI QUARTERLY WAS ISSUED FRIDAY

Illinois College Publication Enters Another Year—Has Editorial on Class Memorials on Campus.

The first issue of the 1924 Illinois College Alumni Quarterly came off the press at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The magazine has enjoyed a steady growth since its beginning a year ago. It now has a subscription list of six hundred, and is sent to all parts of the country.

The magazine now carries several page ads from national advertisers, among which are the General Electric Co., Illinois Power and Light Corp., and Doubleday, Page and Co. It has a new and attractive cover, which was designed by Louis Chivell of New York City, brother of the editor, Prof. H. Caldwell. Associate editors are Coach W. T. Harmon, Miss Emma M. Leonard and Miss Grace Van Houten. Corresponding editors are Harry M. Kirby, '97, and Edward M. Bulard, '16. The business manager is Cole Y. Rowe. The following editorial from the Quarterly on class memorials at Illinois college may be of interest.

"A member of the class of '95 has written President Rammelkamp suggesting that the time has come when the successive graduating classes ought to leave class memorials at the college. In order to inaugurate the scheme, he has promised a subscription of $500 to erect on the campus some electric lights as a memorial to the class of '95. To memorialize the class of '95 and at the same time dispel darkness from the campus are indeed worthy objects and if thereby the custom of establishing class memorials can be inaugurated, much good will have been accomplished."

Class memorials are a custom which prevails in many American colleges and universities, and have never to have become a fixed tradition at Illinois College. Perhaps the small number of graduates in the early years and the modest means of most of our students have prevented the inauguration of the plan. With the increased size of our graduating classes and increasing financial prosperity the idea ought not to be an impossibility at Illinois College.

The memorial classes of Illinois have, in recent years, been leaving behind them sections of concrete walks as an aid to their alma mater and as an evidence that certain classes once walked the campus. In other places, prizes, memorial windows, and other forms of endowment have been established.

DR. BLAIR ADDRESSED ROTARIANS FRIDAY

Ladies Night Observed With Dinner at Central Christian Church—Spoke of Stressed Value of Educational Work in Solving Present Day Problems.

Dr. Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction and a member of the Springfield Rotary club, made an address at a dinner given by the Jacksonville Rotary club Friday night at Central Christian church. It was ladies' night and the company included about 130.

The invocation was by Rev. M. L. Ponting and then an excellent dinner was served by the ladies of the church. Dr. A. H. Doller, president of the club, expressed the pleasure that Rotarians had in the presence of their guests and then called upon Judge H. P. Samuel to introduce the speaker.

Dr. Blair is so accustomed to appearing on such occasions that he speaks with great fluency and the audience last night found great pleasure in hearing his address, in which well told stories were intermingled with the truths that he sought to impress.

Dr. Blair said that the lunch club movement is worth while because as men enter after luncheon they come into a more accurate knowledge of each other. He quoted Tennyson as saying that every person one meets becomes a part of him. It is in relationships as friends and associates that one gets the broader and more accurate viewpoint. Then he told the Hindu story of six blind men who went out to inspect an elephant. One seized the animal by the trunk, another by the ear, a third by a tusk, each one of the six touching a separate part of the body. So each one had an entirely different idea of the elephant's anatomy, while a real understanding could only come from a unifying of these ideas.

Pulling Together

Dr. Blair said that he was not an alarmist but that there were conditions and influences at work in this country which quite well warrant the statement that good citizens, those who wish well for their country and its people—must keep together and study humanity and its needs. Then the speaker told of a visitor from another state who came into a marvelous stretch of forest in southern Illinois. He was full of admiration for the magnificent trees and seemed to pay no attention to the seedling trees now to the acorns just beneath the earth's surface, unfolding into life.

Then he said that the greatest betterment for this country must come thru the proper training and care of children, and that the best work of Rotary and other organizations can be found in its effort to see to it that the boys and girls of the land have the proper environment and the right care.

The Public Schools

Then Dr. Blair quickly sketched the importance of the public school system of this state, with its million and a quarter pupils, 38,000 teachers and millions upon millions invested in school property.

"I believe," said the speaker "that Americanization for the foreigners who come to this country will come most effectively thru the schools, as their children learn thru the schools about the ideals of America."

Preceding the address the club sang America and several Rotary songs, under the leadership of Albert C. Metcalf, with Willard Wesner at the piano, and another Rotary song concluded the exercises.

During the evening a splendid program was furnished by Skinner's orchestra. One number included a solo part by Ollie Parker.

After thanking Dr. Blair for the address, Dr. Doller said that the Rotary program will include other ladies' nights just as soon as these home members of the club care to again be Rotary guests.

COMPLETE OFFICES ON EAST STATE STREET

Workmen are busy completing several office rooms over Shanahan's grocery store, and Armstrong's drug store on East State street. The buildings are owned by Dr. R. B. Buckthorpe and have formerly been occupied as apartments. The Kubota studio was also a former occupant in part of the second floor which is undergoing changes. The removal of the studio was made following a fire in the building.

The entire floor has been redecorated and extensive changes made to make the rooms into modern offices. One of the offices will be occupied by the Cloverleaf Life and Casualty Co., and another by Thomas Buckthorpe.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors who assisted us so kindly during our illness and after the death of our father and mother, also for the many beautiful flowers. We wish to especially thank those who furnished cars and the Matt Star Post.
